

Be prepared.

- Bring documents that support your case (police or medical reports, rental agreements or receipts, pictures, bills, etc.).
- If you think the other person will lie, bring a witness. The judge may not have time to talk to the witness. But you can bring a written statement of what the witness saw or heard. (You must file and serve witness statements by mail or in person, along with your Answer (Form DV-120). Bring filed copies of your Answer and Proof of Service (DV-250) to your hearing.)
- Do not bring your children.
- Don't miss the hearing! If you miss it, the judge can make the orders without hearing from you.

Get there 30 minutes early.

- Find the courtroom.
- When the courtroom opens, go in and tell the clerk or officer that you are present.
- If the person who asked for the order is present, do not sit near or talk to him or her.
- Watch the other cases so you will know what to do.
- When your name is called, go to the front of the courtroom.
- Your hearing may last just a few minutes, or up to an hour.

What if I don't speak English?

Ask someone who speaks English to call the court clerk at least a week before your hearing. Ask for a court interpreter. You may have to pay a fee. If the court interpreter is not available, bring someone to interpret for you. Do not ask a child to interpret for you.

What if I am deaf?

If you are deaf, contact the clerk at least 1 week before the hearing. Ask for an interpreter or other accommodation.

Practice saying what you disagree with.

Make a list of the orders you disagree with. Practice saying why you disagree. Do not take more than 3 minutes to say which orders you disagree with.

If you get nervous at the hearing, just read from your list. Use your list to make sure you have told the judge about each order you disagree with.

The judge may ask questions.

- Tell the truth. Speak slowly. You can read from your list.
- The other person or a lawyer may also ask you questions.
- Do not interrupt the judge or the other person.
- Give complete answers.
- If you don't understand, say "I don't understand."
- If the other person lies in court, wait until he or she finishes talking. Then tell the judge.
- Speak only to the judge. Do not talk to the other person unless it is your turn to ask questions.
- When people are talking to the judge, wait for them to finish. Then you can ask them questions about what they said.
- Do not sit near or talk to the other person.

The judge will decide.

- At the end of the hearing, the judge will say what the orders are.
- You will be served with the Restraining Order After Hearing (DV-130) within a few days, by mail or in person.
- If anything on the DV-130 form is different from what the judge ordered, talk to a lawyer right away. Or ask the court clerk how to find free or low-cost legal services.

The judge may “continue” your case.

This means you have to come back another day. The judge can do this if:

- Your hearing is taking longer than planned
- The judge wants more information
- You need more time to get a lawyer or prepare an answer

If your case is continued...

- The judge may make the orders last until the new hearing date.
- Bring all your papers back to court at the next hearing.

What about child custody or visitation?

- If you need child custody or visitation orders, the judge will send you to mediation. Mediation helps parents agree on a plan for custody and visitation that is best for the children.
- If you are sent to mediation, the judge may make your temporary custody and visitation orders last until the next hearing.
- Either parent can ask to meet with the mediator separately.

What happens after the hearing?

- If the judge makes the orders, you must obey them. If you don't, you can be arrested.
- If you do not receive a copy of the orders, ask the clerk for a copy, or talk to a lawyer.
